1	Capitalize "Monster Equipment and Spell Cards"		Fixed
2	Remove the word "that" from the first sentence in Treasure Cards section.		Fixed
3	'Into the Dungeon missing closing quote		Fixed
4	Travel Event Cards section, last sentence should read: "The way to read these are..."		Fixed
5	Capitalize "Spell and Prayer Cards"		Fixed
6	The abbreviation QRS is never used again in the book, so I would recommend replacing it with the full name Quick Reference Sheet		Rejected	The term is used on FB, on updates etc as well so it should be kept.
7	I would recommend not including a URL and instead describe how to get to the site: "Finally, you will need to print Character Sheets which can be found online at BoardGameGeek – League of Dungeoneers – Files website."		Fixed
8	I would recommend adding Action Points (AP) to the list.		Fixed
9	I would recommend changing Adjacent to: "If a hero is standing in a square, 'A', all 8 squares surrounding square 'A' are considered Adjacent."		Fixed
10	Incantation. The sentence should start: "A spell..."		Unclear	Not sure what's the issue with the current sentence.
11	Enemies - Should read "Same as Monsters."		Unclear	Not sure what paragraph we are talking about.
12	Touch spell explanation lines are double spaced instead of single spaced		Fixed

13	Stat - needs a period at the end.		Fixed
14	A Note on Gender paragraph needs to be Justified and match other paragraph spacing.		Fixed
15	In the A Note on Gender paragraph the words "of these" can be removed.		Fixed
16	Capitalize "How do I Start Playing?"		Fixed
17	"at page 52" should be removed from "How do I start playing?" to prevent incorrect referencing if page order changes.		Rejected	Page references help as long as they are correct which this one is.
18	Page 16 – Dice Rolling and Skill Checks “A roll of 91-00 is always a failure, no matter what your skill level or modifiers are.” Page 53 – Stats and Skills Maximum “A skill can never exceed 80, no matter how many Perks and Talents are involved. That means any result of 81 or higher is always a failure.”		Fixed
19	A line break is needed between these 2 terms: "T: Touch Spell" & "Tr: Throwable Potion"		Fixed
20	End of 'Objects on Tiles' section jumps to the right-hand column		Fixed
21	'Adjacent' sub-title text seems smaller than other sub-title texts		Fixed
22	Gameplay Example – Right Column, first paragraph “Triggering a trap reduces her sanity with 1” “Triggering a trap reduces her sanity with 2” (NB : shouldn't it be “by 2” instead of “with 2” ?)		Fixed
23	"The game is supplied with a large amount of wonderful cardboard standees." This isn't strictly true, maybe could be reworded (or always sell with the standees as part of the base game. They're so awesome I think this should be the case.)		Rejected	2nd campaign always included the standees.

24	The following description text overlaps the tile graphic, "All 8 squares within the green square are adjacent to the blue square with the Alchemist from Reaper Miniatures."		Fixed
25	Even though the following information is on page 26, it might be beneficial to have that abbreviations in the Abbreviation section too (pages 16 & 17) – "... you will sometimes see these checks abbreviated as 'RES or...'; i.e., RES: Resolve. If adding it to page 16 & 17, it would also be beneficial include the other Stat abbreviations there too – STR: Strength; DEX: Dexterity; WIS: Wisdom; CON: Constitution... and possibly a brief definition of each.		Fixed
26	Right-hand column near top, missing apostrophe for "spider's token"		Fixed
27	Gameplay Example - right column Giant Spider should have 3 Initiative tokens as the door was bashed. A new turn should start after placing enemies like stated in the FAQ.		Fixed
28	Barter paragraph. Need a "%" after each "10".		Fixed
29	The higher your hero's skill, the better versed your they are in dabbling with magic		Fixed
30	Skill List - Barter Someone pointed out that "%" is missing but the text also doesn't say if it's RDU or RDD.		Fixed	RDU when selling, RDU when buying.
31	2 line breaks are needed between these 2 terms in the Halfling section: "Traits" & "Hit Points"		Fixed
32	Page 37 Background 7 is "Revenge", Page 40 Background 16 is "Revenge" too.		Fixed	Changed 7 to 'Ambushed'

33	Page 42, 16. Revenge Experience from compleating the request has been removed. Was: If you defeat the beast, you gain an additional +1000XP. Now: If you defeat the beast, you gain an additional + .		Fixed
34	DMG for the Morning Star is shown as 1d10+4. In Appendix III Equipment Weapons (p. 163), the Damage for the Morning Star is shown as 1d8+4.		Fixed
35	Armour and shields get +1 DMG and -1 ENC		Fixed
36	Party Morale - table "A Hero dies -> Effect: -6" On the Quest Sheet, effect is -5, which is right ?		Fixed	QRS is correct.
37	Description of "Arachnophobia" should probably mention spiders in 2nd sentence. i.e., "Sll encounters against Spiders cause Terror."		Fixed
38	"Calculating Party Morale" section missing rounding down rule. i.e, "To calculate your party's morale, first divide each Hero's RES by 10 and round down. Then, add those numbers together." (RDD is already written in parenthesis.)		Fixed

40	Party Morale table "A hero reaches 0 Hit Points -> -4" Quick Reference Sheet - Page 2 - Party Morale "Character reaches 0 wounds -> -2"		Fixed	-4 is correct
41	Increased Power "Miscast will be at -2 for each level, meaning that a miscast will occur on 94-100 instead if increased with 1 level." If standard miscast is 95-100, this example should be 93-100 and not 94-100 unless standard misact is 96-100.		Fixed
42	Focus - Example "To even the odds, he chooses to focus for 2 actions. His new chance of success is now 48. At the same time, however, any roll above 85 will now result in a Miscast." If miscast is above 85 in this example, this means standard miscast is 96-100.		Fixed
43	Magic Scrolls "regardless of her own level and the Casting Level of the spell is reduced by 10" Casting Level should be Casting Value. Same mistake on the Magic Scrolls summary card, CL is written where it should be CV.		Fixed
44	"Not that it is the species that matter, and not he profession."	"Note that it is the species that matters, and not the profession."	Unclear	Can't find this.
45	Exquisite Ingredients and Parts "Whenever you use an Exquisite component when mixing, the chance of success is increased with +10." Is using several Exquisite component cumulative ?		Fixed
46	Exquisite Ingredients and Parts "Whenever you use an Exquisite component when mixing, the chance of success is increased with +10." Is using several Exquisite component cumulative ?		Fixed

47	Different Potions AFAIK nothing say in the rules that potions without weak - standard - supreme version listed are considered standard (NB : I deducted it looking at the Tables of Potion page 180).		Fixed
48	Bottle of the Void "Any spell cast during the battle will suffer a -20 modifier on top of the CL modifier." CL should be CV.		Fixed
49	Page 64-65-66 - Liquid Fire - Poison - Potion of Constitution - Potion of Courage - Potion of Dexterity - Potion of Fire Protection - Potion of Strength - Potion of Wisdom These potions have a duration tied to end of battle but there's 3 way it's written : "for the rest of the battle." - "last until the next end of a battle." - "last until the end of the next battle." Are they supposed to be the same duration ? If yes, they should have the exact same wording.		Fixed
50	First, decide what kind of potion the recipe will result in. Then, decide what ingredients and parts should be part of the recipe.	I can't purposefully create a Potion of Health if I don't have the recipe, I will create something random. I think the whole 'Making a recipe' section could be removed. 'Mixing Potions' covers everything clearly.	Fixed	This has been clarified as at certain times in the game you can actually purposefully create a specific potion.

51	Potion of Smoke "obscuring LOS in the hit square and all surrounding 9 squares." -> 8 squares "Any fighting within the smoke is at -20 CS" Both attacker and attacked character have to be within the smoke ? Or just the attacker ? Just the attacked character ? Does it affect parrying as well ? No penalty for dodging ?		Fixed
52	To clarify, Firebomb is indeed listed as having a weak, standard and supreme version in it's description (p66 v1.2), but not included in any of the tables. As pointed out, it therefore cannot be created, nor bought at the Alchemist's Guild.		Fixed
53	Timing inconsistency About the Prayers "Each prayer lasts until the end of the next battle." Will the God Listen "last until the end of the battle, or as otherwise stated." Duration "A prayer will last until the end of the battle, unless otherwise noted. If a prayer is used between battles, it will last for 4 turns. Only one prayer can be active at once. » Like Potions duration, they seem to indicate the same timing, but the interpretation can be different. IMO it's better to remove any duration indication in the first two paragraphs to avoid repetition and inconsistency.		Fixed
54	Stay Thy Hand and Be Gone have the same text for the prayers. One should be a different effect.		Fixed

55	Prayers "This is done with such intensity that it costs 1 Point of Energy." Nothing specify if energy is still spent if you fail the Battle Prayer roll.		Fixed
56	Initial Setup "This door is always unlocked and does not increase the Threat Level." Does this mean this door can be trapped?		Fixed	It is not trapped.
57	The Turn – third paragraph "Once all heroes have acted, the enemies will act. ..." It doesn't work like this anymore. This paragraph should be rewritten.		Fixed
58	List of Obstacles "The images below are just examples and they make look differently," -		Fixed
59	Wandering Monsters "A magically sealed door or Iron Wedged door will stop the token for that turn, and it must roll 5-6 to continue through the door next turn, instead of the normal 2-6." Quick Reference Sheet - Page 1 - Wandering monster "Magically sealed doors: 5-6, Sealed with iron wedges: 4-6."		Fixed
60	Searching through a Room or Corridor Nothing state that you can't search a room during a battle, but I guess it's the intention. This paragraph also doesn't tell which table to use in case of a successful Perception Test (Appendix V).		Fixed
61	Red Levers Table 19, "Lower PM with 1"	"Lower PM by 1"	Fixed

62	(Perfect Hearing) on the first turn of combat after opening a door and encountering enemies.	This would mean that Perfect Hearing doesn't apply to skirmishes? (there aren't any doors) I think it should though. If I can hear a monster on the other side of the door, shouldn't I hear it in the woods just as well?	Fixed
63	Who can fight?' - Models equipped with Missile Weapons have a maximum reach of 10 squares in a dungeon, and unlimited range outdoors. Long Range Weapons may normally not be fired if an enemy is standing adjacent to the fire. there's no distinction for "Long Range Weapons" and the "adjacent to the fire" looks like a translation error?	Suggested alternative wording: "Models equipped with Missile Weapons have a maximum reach of 10 squares in a dungeon, and unlimited range outdoors. Missile weapons cannot be fired if an enemy is adjacent to the attacker, even if they are not the target". Also this would be better placed with the other rules for Ranged combat as seems a frequently ask question. 😊	Fixed
64	Dungeon events (optional rule)... it mentions that you should roll on a table – "On a result of 9-10, you have triggered a dungeon event. Roll on the table and resolve the event" – but never says what the table is called, or where it can be found (e.g., page #, book, etc.)	Table in Quick ref comp p 17	Fixed
65	Under what costs "2 AP" it says, "Search through furniture or a corpse" ... but on pages 87 & 96, it says, searching furniture and corpses cost 1AP ... maybe this was meant to be "searching a room or corridor" since that costs 1 full turn (which could be equated to 2 AP).	Not an error read "searching.." on page 97 (—> real rulebook)	Rejected	This is correct - it takes 1AP if there are no monsters, and 2AP if there are monsters on the table.
66	Bows and slings cost 1 AP to reload but to can also be reloaded freely while moving as long as the model is not climbing.	Bows and slings cost 1 AP to reload but can also be reloaded freely while moving as long as the model is not climbing.	Fixed

67	Charge attack: You must move (up to your max M) adjacent to the enemy (any of the 3 squares in front of the you) and perform a standard attack.	You may move (up to your max M) adjacent to the enemy (any of the 3 squares in front of the enemy) and perform a standard attack.	Fixed
68	Fumble Page 100 "A fumbling enemy falls over and stays prone for the rest of the turn." Page 105 - Enemy Fumble "An enemy that rolls 100 when attacking drops its weapon, if it has one, or falls over. Picking up the weapon requires one Action and a successful DEX roll. Standing up costs one Action. It will continue until it succeeds.	The part about enemy should just be removed from Fumble page 100 to avoid this inconsistency.	Fixed
69	Creatures that don't have hands or reasonably won't have the intelligence to operate a door requires 1d6 AP to get through	Creatures that don't have hands or reasonably won't have the intelligence to operate a door require 1d6 AP to get through	Fixed
70	As an example, we will look at a humanoid enemy armed with a Close-combat weapon.	This used to be under Basic Rules, but a new section for Enemies and doors has been added, so the text is kind of misleading. Enemies and doors could be moved after the example, or else change the wording so we don't think this will be an example of enemies and doors.	Fixed
71	Acidic and Fire Damage "On a roll of 4-6, the acid/the fire will continue to damage the character next turn" When ? At the start of the next turn, at the start of the target next turn/activation ?		Fixed

72	Acidic Damage "On a roll of 4-6, the acid will continue to damage the character next turn, but the damage is halved (rounded down) to a minimum of 1." Quick Reference Sheet - Page 2 - Acidic Damage "Ignores NA. 50% chance of auto damage next turn. Roll damage again, half (RDD)."		Fixed
73	Fire Damage "On a roll of 4-6, the fire will continue to damage the character next turn, but the damage is halved (rounded down) to a minimum of 1." Quick Reference Sheet - Page 2 - Fire Damage "Ignores NA & Armour. 50% chance of auto damage next turn. Roll damage again, half (RDD)."		Fixed

75	The party requires one ration per day to sustain themselves. In lieu of rations, the party may try the Foraging Skill once per day. If they succeed, each character will have enough food for the day. However, if they fail, they are left without food. They go hungry and temporarily lose half their Constitution (RDD).	I feel this parts needs to clarify what happens when you have rations and try a foraging test. If you can simply eat your rations upon failing your foraging test, then add "they are left without food and go hungry unless they have rations." If you can't eat rations after trying a foraging test, then that should be mentionned. "... they are left without food and may not eat rations even if they have some." Or possibly you can't forage when you currently have rations and must eat them first?	Fixed

76	Rations and Resting "When travelling in the Ancient Lands, each hero requires 2 rations per day"	"When traveling in the Ancient Lands, the party requires 2 rations per day". Concerning "travelling" or "traveling". This is one of the many UK vs. US. spelling variations. (Tillägg XRIS) In UK English, 'travelling' (double 'l') is standard. In US English, 'traveling' (one 'l') is correct. Since the rulebook tends to use UK English (for example "armour" instead of "armor"), I would say the use of travelling would be more consistent.	Fixed
77	In relation to learning Prayers, the table on page 120 says it takes 1 Activity Point (1 day) to "Learn a Prayer," but the example on page 119. shows the Priest going to the Temple 3 times to learn a Prayer (3 days).		Fixed
78	Settlement events Event 11 is in contradiction with the fact that settlement events is rolled when entering a settlement (so prior to do anything else).		Fixed

79	Settlement Events - event n°11 The timing of this event is in contradiction with when you have to roll for an settlement event. Settlement events is rolled each time you enter a settlement, page 118 : "Whenever the party enters a settlement, they must roll for a random Event." For this event : "All other heroes that performed the same activity that day may join the fight (i.e. been to the same guild, been to the same store, etc)." This means activities have to be chosen prior to rolling. Moreover on event n°11 : "Randomize each bandits' weapon by using the enemy equipment cards. Bandits with ranged weapons will also have daggers." It's easy to do, hard to keep track. The basic design of the game is that each enemy type have one type of weapon, not 2, not 3, only one. In this event, with 4 Bandits (I rolled 4) with a different weapon for each, it's a mess to track.		Fixed
80	Whiteport "Inn: 15c per party, per night. There are also gambling opportunities." It's the only settlement with "gambling opportunities" indicated, does this mean it's the only town where you can gamble ?		Fixed
81	"and the attempt only succeeds on a roll of 1-5 on 1d6."	"and the attempt only succeeds on the roll of a 6 on 1d6."	Rejected	This is as intended.
82	Temple of Ohlnir First sentence refers to Charus.		Fixed

83	Tending to those Memories not sure exactly how it works when resting at an inn : "If the heroes spend at least one night in an inn, each hero regains 1d3 Points of Sanity." I guess the intention of "at least" is that you can use it only 1 time but not each time you stay at an inn. Else there would be no reason to spend 1d3x100C to regain an additional 1d6, better stay several time at the inn since there's nothing in this game that force you to move forward. But if Tending to those memories is limited to only one time, when do you recover the possibility to use it again ? Maybe once between each dungeon visits but it must be specified.	(Benman1964) If you stay at the same settlement for consecutive nights you are still only allowed to regain 1D3 Sanity. If you want to regain more Sanity in that same settlement before leaving for a quest, the only solution than is to pay the 1D3 x 100 Coins. Once you return from a quest you can once again regain 1D3 Sanity in that same settlement. For instance when your Sanity is like 1 or 2 and on a 1D3 roll you increase it to 3, you might feel obliged to go for the 1D3 x 100 Coins to regain 1D6 more. Going into a Dungeon with only 3 Sanity left is unwise.	Fixed
84	"1d4 Crusade against..."	"1d6 Crusade against..."	Fixed
85	in the header for the "Crusades" table. Judging by the number of entries it should read "1d6", not 1d4		Fixed
86	Common Talents, Natural Leader: "... to the Party Moral ..."	"... to the Party Morale ..."	Fixed
87		Ensnare "If this weapon hits, the target is trapped in the net and must spend 1 action to get free with a successful STR Test." Monsters don't have STR stat, so if they are the target, what stat/skill should be rolled ? EDIT : this is explained in the FAQ but the rulebook should be errated in further versions with the correct rules.	Fixed	DEX is the correct answer.

117	The rulebook states miscast occurs on a roll of 95-100 which is a range of 6 values out of a possible 100 results - so rules as written the chance of a miscast is 6%. However, after reading this post regarding 'Increase Power' - I am inclined to believe that the intended range for a miscast is 96-100 (5%).		Rejected	95-100 is correct

119	Iron Wedges description for iron wedges on the Fine Treasure card (wandering monster needs 3 turns to pass the door) is different from the one in the book (monster passes through on 4-6).		Fixed

120	Not sure which treasure deck but the "Silver Hand Weapon" has a table with 4 different results the result for Shortsword lists the Enc/Class as 8/2 and the result for Longsword has the has it as 10/3. in the rule book pg 163 the Enc/Class of a Shortsword is 7/2 and a Longsword 10/4. I think this is possibly a missprinton the treasure card.		Fixed	Card is incorrect
121	Disarming traps and lockpicks Page 80 (Disarming a Trap) Disarming a trap takes 2 AP and is done using the Pick Lock Skill. No Lock Picks are needed. Page 28 (Pick Locks skill) Disarming a trap can also be done using a lock pick, or a trap disarming kit at a cost of 2 AP. Page 168 (Lockpicks) Necessary to use the Pick Lock Skill, but can also be used to disarm traps. If damaged, only 1 pick is destroyed.	Update the three pages to be consistent.	Fixed	Lock pick or trap disarm kit needed.

122	Iron wedges (and enemies with doors in general) Page 168 (Iron Wedges) These can be used to block a door and take 1 AP plus 1 AP for closing the door to use. Any enemy (wandering monster or monster already on the table) will need 6 AP to pass the door. Enough for 2 doors. Page 80 (Wandering Monsters) A magically sealed door or Iron Wedged door will stop the token for that turn, and it must roll 5-6 to continue through the door next turn, instead of the normal 2-6. Page 103 (Enemies and doors) A door blocked with Iron Wedges will add 3 turns to the above-mentioned requirements.	Choose between a roll, turn or AP. - Rolling keeps it random, a monster could open it in one turn. - Turns are fixed and maybe easier to track. - AP scales better. It also allows monsters to open a door quicker if there are more (although they need to be adjacent so only 4 AP possible per turn). A bit more tracking to do, but I kind of like this version. Should also be in line with the other options for enemies and doors, which currently mostly use AP. (except wedges and magic which use turns, but should be translated to 2AP?) Wandering Monsters don't have AP currently and they only move once. (unless I'm playing it wrong). Ideally, the mechanic is the same everywhere and easy to scale. Maybe Wandering Monsters should have two actions like everything else. They can't split a move so if they get to a door in two moves, they stop and use their other AP to open the door if possible. However they'll be a lot sooner on the heroes vs 1 move. A way to counter this would be to raise the chance of them turning around. Right now it's only on a 1, but could be 1-2 or even 1-3. Or else they have a single action, and use that to open doors. 6AP would be pretty long though...	Fixed	See above

123	Enemies fumbling Page 100 (Fumble) A fumbling enemy falls over and stays prone for the rest of the turn. Page 105 (Enemy Fumbles) An enemy that rolls 100 when attacking drops its weapon, if it has one, or falls over.	Ideally, both sections have the same wording.	Fixed
124	Going Hungry Page 112 (Rations and resting) They go hungry and temporarily lose half their Constitution (RDD). [...] Party Morale is also lowered by 4. Page 53 (table) Party is hungry / -2		Fixed	Minus 4 is correct
125	Index missing "Dropped Weapon".		Fixed
126	Missing Information Treasure Table Furniture "Dead Adventurer" = (...) equipped with a longsword and armour.(...) <--What armour?		Fixed
127	In relation to the Coins, sometimes the abbreviation "c" has a space after the amount, and sometimes it doesn't (for example, "100c" vs. "100 c" ... for legibility, I feel the one without the space works better, but as long as it's consistent, both could work... especially if there is no line break between the money and the "c"		Fixed
128	Maybe it's intentional but all equipment that can be found as Mundane Treasure can also be bought as Equipment in stores, except for the 'Wild Game Traps'. Are Wild Game Traps FOR 10+ cumulative with Fishing Gear FOR 5+ making FOR 15+.		Fixed	Not cumulative

129	PICKAXE: Pickaxe has no durability (rulebook 1.2) and Dwarven Pickaxe has durability 6. Should Pickaxe have durability?		Fixed	Added DUR to Pickaxe. Every time it is used, it loses 1 point of DUR.
130	The rulebook (V1.2) only describes weapons as needing a certain strength to be wielded with one or two hands. The weapon profile is described on page 46. Then on page 46/47 armor and shields are mentioned as a heading, but in the rule text it is only written about armor that has no class but a Tier. In the appendix for equipment the three different shields then have a class. The handling of shields in terms of their class is nowhere described in more detail. d a shield with two hands.	Suggestion: Include the description for shields in terms of class in the description for weapons. Perhaps clarify whether it is possible to wield	Fixed	Text updated to reflect that Shields have class and requires STR.
131	I'd like to see some differentiating between male and female heroes to make it worth while choosing for male or female hero. https://boardgamegeek.com/thread/3151023/differentiating-between-male-and-female-heroes		Rejected	Feel free to add these differences as house rules.
132	Add a token for 'Broken Door'. in the next print of the game, or in the expansion. Once a monster has bashed through a wedged door, the door is considered broken. A broken door can not be closed or wedged again. ☹️ Of course you can simply remove the door from the game but that would break game immersion. ;-)		Rejected	Good point! Will be taken into consideration.
133	Altar, Sarcophagi and Table have altered text: 'Can be searched. If it covers more than 50% it has to be climbed costing 1 extra movement point. (I didn't like the 2M at the end. 2M could mean 2x4)		Fixed
